D.C. Boutique Hotel Offers Comfort for Stressed-Out Brides

A stressful problem most brides face is how to house, transport and entertain out-of-town guests for their wedding. What if one Washington, D.C. hotel could take all three issues off the bride's to-do list?

The newly renovated Capitol Hill Suites, an all-suites boutique hotel, is located in the prestigious Capitol Hill neighborhood. It offers home-like comfort in an unbeatable location – and gives the busy bride a simple way to make her guests feel welcome while she prepares for her Big Day.

Classic Comfort, Spacious Suites

Capitol Hill Suites offers guests spacious, home-like accommodations in a classically chic atmosphere. Each suite features plush furnishings, a flat screen TV, a DVD player, Internet access, and 50 percent more space than the average hotel room.

Suites are available with a full kitchen, and junior suites feature a kitchenette.

The Center of It All

While the bride is busy taking care of last minute details for her Big Day, her guests should be able to entertain themselves. Capitol Hill Suites sits on an historic residential street in one of the city's most exclusive and walkable neighborhoods.

Guests can walk the shaded sidewalks two blocks to Folger Park, one of Capitol Hill's largest parks. They can walk to dinner and to nightlife at some of Washington's best restaurants and clubs. Or, they can stroll to some of Washington's most popular tourist destinations, including the Capitol, the House and Senate office buildings, the museums, and the White House. There's no need to hire a limo, bus or shuttle service because everything's right outside their door.

One Less 'To-Do' for the Busy Bride

When it comes to housing, transporting, and entertaining out-of-town guests, Capitol Hill Suites can help make the bride's to-do list a little shorter. The bride can concentrate on other detail's, knowing her guests are comfortable and taken care of in the brand new Capitol Hill Suites, home away from home on the Hill.
